Today in History

Johann Wolfgang von Goethe was born in 1749. Goethe was a German writer and politician. His body of work includes epic and lyric poetry written in a variety of metres and styles; prose and verse dramas; memoirs; an autobiography treatises on botany, anatomy, and color; and four novels. One of Ms. Rubenstein's favorite plays in Goethe's Faust. In this the play the main character is tested by a sinister chacater and later turned to evil. The play focuses on the descent of one individual and then society as a whole.

HOMESCHOOL LAB

Ms Leigh Clapp is now teaching in the library and has an added role of collaborating with others to make this a student learning center.

The library is open every day from 3:00 PM to 3:50 PM for homework lab. Four computers have been moved to the library as well as having comfortable places to work and books to use as reference. Please stop by the library for homework support!
